Section 3:

1. In 1,000 characters or fewer, tell us why this individual should receive the Ruth & Ray Reister Award for Historical Contributions to the Humanities. Describe the nominee's contributions to Minnesota history and the humanities; the impact of their work on Minnesota's people, communities, institutions, audiences, or public understanding; how their work helps Minnesotans better understand themselves, one another, their communities, or the histories and ideas that shape our shared life; and what makes their contribution sustained, distinctive, and/or significant. Nominators are encouraged to attach examples noted in this narrative as attachments (see below).

Where applicable, nominators may wish to highlight:

- Publications and significant scholarly work, including peer-reviewed work where applicable.
 - Public/community history projects.
 - Exhibits, educational or interpretive work.
 - Awards, honors, fellowships, or other professional recognition.
2. Attach or insert links of no more than three significant publications, projects, awards, or other accomplishments that help reviewers understand the nominee's overall contribution.
 3. Confirm if the attachment has been peer-reviewed
